Governor Stanley Issues Enlistment Proclamation

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 23.—
“In the hour of stress and of peril Kentuckians have immemorably been the first to enter the breach. The commander-in-chief of the armies and navies of the United States has issued a call to the colors, and Kentuckians of this generation will prove worthy of the proudest traditions of their martial sires. I hope to see the battalions of this commonwealth among the first in line of duty and if need be in line of battle. The national guard in Kentucky cannot report for actual service until every company has been recruited to full strength. It is the duty of patriots everywhere who are eligible to this service to volunteer without delay.

(Signed)

“A. O. STANLEY, Governor”

Introduction

Make comparison with today's operation Jump Start and past events in Mexico when the KyNG was involved. Following Civil War, Mexican War, Punitive Expedition, back in 2000 and now with Jump Start.

Make comparison with Guard patrolling mission in Iraq with up armored vehicles and the fact that GMC and his machine gun company was doing basically what our units are doing today.

The National Guard has participated in every conflict involving the U.S. from the various colonial campaigns to the Vietnam War. Known in earlier years as the Volunteer Militia, the Guard acquired its present name in 1825 when a New York militia unit renamed itself in honor of Lafayette, the Revolutionary War hero, who commanded France's famed Garde Nationale. The designation gradually spread until it had been adopted nationwide by the beginning of this century. Under the National Defense Act of June 3, 1916, the organized militia was officially reestablished as the National Guard, and the organization was made to conform to that of the regular Army.

The Guard began to reorganize in 1916, but because of the low manning permitted by the regular Army and the call to active service for duty on the Mexican Border, the process moved slowly. One of the questions experts on the Guard have asked is why the period during which the Guard was on the Mexican Border was not utilized to organize the Army, including the National Guard, into divisions, at least, and armies and corps, if possible, and comparable to those in effect in the European armies at that time.

Because this was not done, the Guard had to be reorganized after it was called to active duty for the first World War, resulting in much confusion. Additionally, the war Department practically destroyed the Guard when it ordered the discharge of every officer and enlisted man from every State obligation on the same day it ordered the individual members of the Guard into Federal service.

Searching for Poncho: The Kentucky National Guard Mexican Border Service, 1916-1917

The Kentucky Brigade was mobilized for the Mexican Punitive Expedition in June of 1916 and trained at Fort Thomas, Kentucky. In August 1916 the Brigade moved to Fort Bliss, near El Paso, Texas. They were stationed at Camp Owen Biene, some two miles from Fort Bliss. They were attached to the 10th U.S. Provisional Division under command of Brigadier General Charles G. Morton. Their mission was to conduct patrols along a sixty-mile-stretch of the Rio Grande River to Fort Hancock, Texas.<sup>1</sup> In February 1917 they were ordered back to Fort Thomas and mustered out.

GMC comments on the machine gun w/photos.

The Kentuckians probably got their first opportunity to see military aircraft in action as the 1st Aero Squadron conducted operations and messenger services in the area. It may have even been the first airplane many of them had ever seen.

KYNG members gather around a Signal Corps plane taken sometime between August 1916 and February 1917. This is believed to be Signal Corps plane No. 75, A Curtis R2, which was delivered to Columbus in May 1916. Courtesy Kentucky Historical Society Cheshire Collection.

Kentucky furnished 2,394 troops for the Mexican Border campaign, suffering an unknown number of casualties. First Lieutenant Nathaniel G. Hale, L Company, Third Kentucky Infantry died of an accidental gunshot wound at Fort Bliss, Texas on 13 January 1917. Hale was a member of the Murray unit, joining as a private on June 22, 1912. He was promoted to Sergeant and First Sergeant and elected First Lieutenant on July 10, 1914.

Several members of the Kentucky Guard perished on the border or after returning home from Pneumonia and other communicable diseases. As was often the case, camp life held as many dangers from disease as duty on the front lines from bullets.

Harold Hite of A Company, Third Regiment, died on 4 February 1917, of pneumonia. Captain Estel E. Owsley, M Company, Second Kentucky Regiment of Middlesboro died February 11, 1917 at Fort Thomas, Kentucky. He took ill on the trip from El Paso to Kentucky. Claude Somerville of Portland, Tennessee, died at the city hospital on 25 March 1917, following surgery. He had been ill with measles and later developed pneumonia and after recovering from that became ill from emphysema. He enlisted in the Third Regiment of the Kentucky National Guard in Franklin, Kentucky.

There were undoubtedly many others whom research has not yet revealed and newspaper accounts make references to widespread illness from pneumonia.

Future Adjutant Generals

27. JAMES MADISON DeWEESE

Adjutant General of Kentucky: 1919 - 1920.

Born: 25 October 1878, Pattyville, Ohio County, Kentucky.

Military Service: Mexican Punitive Expedition, World War I, and World War II.

Assigned to position: 20 December 1919.

While serving as adjutant general of Kentucky, DeWeese had the additional duty of U.S. Property & Disbursing Officer (01 Jan – 23 Sep 1920). On 14 June 1920, Brigadier General James M. DeWeese, Adjutant General of Kentucky, and Major Isaac Wilder, Assistant Adjutant General, tendered their resignations to Governor Edwin P. Morrow. Governor Morrow appointed Wilder to the position of Adjutant General of Kentucky with the rank of Brigadier General on 15 June 1920, the following day Wilder tendered his resignation. On 17 June, Governor Morrow reappointed James M. DeWeese adjutant general with Wilder re-appointed as the assistant adjutant general. DeWeese served in the position until 1 November 1920, when he resigned.<sup>xix</sup>

Served under Governor(s): Edwin P. Morrow.

Died: 12 July 1967, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Buried: DeWeese Mausoleum, Oakwood Cemetery, Hartford, Ohio County, Kentucky.

In the spring of 1906, Col. DeWeese became Captain of Company H. Other officers were Oscar Midkiff, 1st Lieutenant; Clarence Shown, 2nd Lieutenant; Mr. Shown, who now resides at Taffy, recalled that, “The company was called up for encampment almost every year. The first was at Henderson in 1906. The second was at Norfolk, Virginia, in 1907, to celebrate the 300th anniversary of John Smith’s landing at Jamestown. Other encampments included Earlington, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Oreil, Middlesborough, and Lexington.

In 1908, Company H was called out to help put down the Night Riders Rebellion in Kentucky. Col. DeWeese took some of the men and went to Murray. Capt. Shown went to Benton, Kentucky and E.W. Woodward went to Eddyville.

By the early 1900’s many American people had made investments in the country of Mexico. In 1910, a revolution broke out and American interest there were threatened. Finally in 1916, when a Mexican named Villa, raided in New Mexico and killed 17 Americans, President Wilson decided to act. Capt. Shown recalls that summer, "President Wilson called the National Guard from many different states to help settle the dispute. Company H, along with the Kentucky brigade were called to Fort Thomas in June. We were all trained and equipped there.

Mrs. H. H. Harrington, formerly of Ohio County, recalls the night the troops departed from Hartford with Col. DeWeese in command. "I remember that night a group of girls from Hartford gave a party for them. We all made buntings of red, white and blue cloth and wore them. We gave the party on the courthouse lawn and served punch. It was really a gay time. I especially remember Captain DeWeese. (He was a captain then.) He was extremely handsome and very gallant. I remember that I had one question which I felt no one else but him could answer. When someone called him over to me he took my arm and said, 'Now, young lady, what can I do for you?' and I felt quite honored. I remember that right before the boys left, they all cut off a button on their coats and gave them to someone to remember them by. We had a marvelous time that night."

In early August, the Kentucky Brigade was sent to Fort Bliss, Texas. Captain Shown explained, "At this time both men and the officers had to undergo rigid physical examinations. Captain DeWeese had undergone a minor operation for an infected lymph gland, and failed his examination." At this time (then) Lieutenant Shown took command of the company and they proceeded to the border.

Captain DeWeese later recovered and applied directly to the Secretary of War for reinstatement to the Guard. This was immediately granted.

Captain Shown remembers Col. DeWeese as "an officer of military bearing. He was tall, erect, and readily recognized by his superiors as a leader."

The Casualties

STATE OF KENTUCKY

Adjutant General's Office

General Orders,
No. 1

Frankfort, KY., January 20, 1917.

General Order Book – 1917

1. The State Headquarters learn with sorrow of the accidental death of 1st Lieutenant Nathaniel G. Hale, Company L, 3rd Kentucky Infantry, in the Federal Service, which occurred in camp at Fort Bliss, near El Paso, Texas, on the 13th instant, as the result of a gun shot wound in the head.
2. Lieutenant Hale entered the National Guard service as a Private in Company L, 3rd Infantry, stationed at Murray, Kentucky on June 22, 1912; was promoted successively to Sergeant and First Sergeant; elected Second Lieutenant January 26, 1914; and elected First Lieutenant July 10, 1914. He was in command of his company for many months during the absence of his Captain; he was a good rifle shot and much interested in rifle practice, and his death removes from the service an officer who has labored with conspicuous ability and success in furthering the efficiency of the National Guard. He has the confidence and esteem of his superiors, and the respect, support, and affection of his subordinates. He died for his country and his flag in as deep a sense as had he died on the field of battle.

By Order of the Governor:

J. Tandy Ellis
The Adjutant General.

LIEUT. GIBSON HALE ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Officer Of L Company, Third Kentucky Meets Death In Camp.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—Lieut. Gibson Hale, of L Company, Third Kentucky Infantry, was accidentally shot through the temple and instantly killed late this evening while seated in his tent at the regimental camp near El Paso. A few moments prior to the accident, Lieut. Hale and some of the other officers of the regiment had been inspecting a shotgun, the property of Capt. William King, of K Company, of the same regiment.

One of the officers slipped a ball cartridge of service ammunition into the chamber of the shotgun to ascertain whether it would fit. The weapon was then laid aside and in some manner was discharged, the ball passing through Lieut. Hale's temple, killing him instantly. Capt. King and Lieut. Hale occupied adjoining tents and were warm friends.

Shortly before the accident they had arranged for a rabbit hunt and the little shot gun was to figure in the hunt.

Lieut. Hale comes from a fine family in Southwestern Kentucky. His home was at Murray and the body will be sent there accompanied by an escort of officers. Lieut. Hale was in command of the detachment of L Company, which was recently fired upon by Mexican snipers and during that rather warm skirmish acquitted himself creditably. He was very popular with the men and officers of the regiment.

Capt. King, whose home is at Owensboro, is greatly distressed over the accident.

MILITARY FUNERAL HELD FOR LIEUT. GIBSON HALE

Capt. King Exonerated For Officer's Death By Board.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 15.—With impressive military ceremony the funeral of Lieut. Gibson Hale, of Murray, Ky., who was accidentally killed on Saturday evening was held this afternoon. Col. Henry, commanding the Kentucky brigade, and many other officers of the Third Regiment attended the ceremonies, including Capt. King, who was present when Lieut. Hale was killed, Lieuts. Sory, Crump, Linten, Corn, Clark and Logan, acted as pallbearers. While the body was being conveyed through the streets from the undertaking establishment to the passenger station, the regimental band played a funeral march, and L Company of the Third Kentucky acted as guard of honor.

Thousands of soldiers and civilians lined the curbing and stood with bended heads while the procession passed. At the passenger station the Murray Company stood at attention facing the barren streets of old Mexico while the casket was being carried to the train. Presently the strains of "Taps" the soldier's last good-bye echoed in the interior of the station, L Company and the band then marched away to their camps on the outskirts of the city. Sergeant William Hale, brother of the dead Lieutenant, left for Kentucky tonight in charge of the body. Capt. King, of K Company, of Owensboro, who was handling a little shotgun a few moments prior to the accidental shooting of Hale, was fully exonerated to-day by a board of officers, which was presided over by Capt. Terry Humble.

Awards, Decorations and Recognition

MEXICAN BORDER SERVICE MEDAL

The Mexican Border Service Medal was established by Act of Congress (Public Law 193, 65th Congress) on July 9, 1918.

The Roman sword symbolizes war or military strength and is sheathed to indicate service in the United States rather than in actual combat. The wreath represents achievement. The rifles, sabers, and cannons represent the Infantry, Cavalry, and Artillery. The ribbon colors are the same as used in the Mexican Service Medal.

The Mexican Border Service Medal was awarded for service on the Mexican border between May 9, 1916 and March 24, 1917 or with the Mexican Border Patrol between January 1, 1916 and April 6, 1917. It was authorized for persons not eligible for the Mexican Service Medal.

Description: A bronze medal, 1 1/4 inch in diameter, with an oxidized, relieved finish.
Obverse: A sheathed Roman sword hanging on a tablet which is inscribed FOR SERVICE ON THE MEXICAN BORDER. The tablet is surrounded by a laurel wreath.

Reverse: The Coat of Arms of the United States above a scroll and surrounded by a wreath ending at the center with cross rifles in dexter, crossed sabers in sinister, and crossed cannons in base.

Ribbon: The ribbon is 1 3/8 inches in width and consists of the following vertical stripes: 7/16 inch Emerald Green, 1/2 inch Golden Yellow, 7/16 inch and Emerald Green.
