42d NGA Ky Conference planned

Greenleaf and Huddleston to speak

Kentucky National Guardsmen attending the 42d Annual General Conference of the National Guard Association of Kentucky can expect to receive the latest information concerning National Guard matters. Speakers invited to address the conference include Major General Greenleaf and Senator Huddleston.

Kentucky's Adjutant Gen, Major General Richard L. Frymire will discuss the events of the past year, relating them to the Kentucky Guard. Delegates attending the conference will learn several progressive programs which have been initiated by Kentucky's Adjutant General.

Major General Francis S. Greenleaf, the Chief of the National Guard Bureau or one of his top aides will bring a special report on Guard problems and accomplishments at the national level. The Guard is facing many changes as the Vietnam war grinds to a halt. The report from the Bureau will be of vital concern to every Guardsman.

The concluding event of the conference will be a banquet and military ball. The Association has extended an invitation to Kentucky's newest Senator, Walter D. Huddleston, to be the banquet's guest speaker.

The conference's opening event will again be the President's Reception, Friday evening March 2d at 7:30 p.m.

The annual business session will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, March 3d.

As a treat for the ladies in attendance, a special luncheon and style show is scheduled for noon Saturday, March 3d, at the Gault House.

Prior to the banquet and military ball on Saturday evening, a no-host Hospitality Hour will be held.

Kentucky's 202d Army Band of Frankfort, under the direction of Warrant Officer John Hoover will provide music for several functions of the conference.

Conference costs to the Association have increased this year, therefore participants can expect a slight increase in the Registration Fees, the first increase since 1970. Members who register in advance will save, advance fees will be $11 for a single and $23 for a couple, (which includes a ticket to the ladies luncheon).

Registration forms will be mailed to all members later this month. All members are encouraged to register in advance because it is less expensive and it aids conference planning considerably.

Bean Soup announced by Youth Council

LTC David B. May, President of the Kentucky National Guard Youth Council has set March as Bean Soup Month.

Units will be authorized to conduct Open House and a Bean Soup Festival in March to support the Youth Camp and other Youth Activities.

"It is our desire to continue the operation of a Youth Camp in 1973," President May announced. "To accomplish this we must have sufficient funds to insure its success. We are depending on you as Kentucky Guardsmen to help raise this money."

COL Charles Sellins has been appointed 1973 Fund Raising Chairman. Sellins said the theme this year will be "Know and Support Your Community Service Guardsmen".

Let's make this our best year," said Sellins. "Last year we fell short of our goal, and raised considerably less than we did in 1971.

Adjutant General
Kentucky National Guard

Sir:

On December 22nd, we were faced with the thought that our toy collection would be stranded in Lexington until after Christmas. They were in route to the needy children of Owsley County, Kentucky.

Then at the last moment we thought of how the National Guard has helped so many people in the past. So we contacted your office.

Thanks to the efforts of COL Wilbur R. Buntin and Ms Etta Withrop, your office, LTC David B. May Hqs 138th FA Group and SSG Robert E. Blair, HHB 2-138th FA, who transported the toys, 73 needy children received a toy this Christmas. Of the children, 19 received no presents other than these.

On behalf of the children you have helped, thank you!

Sincerely,

Arthur E. Provost

"The Bean Soup Festival has proven to be the inducement to ask for donations." Sellins said, "A project such as the Youth Camp needs sufficient funds if it is to be supported."

The Coordinator for this year's Youth Camp is LTC Ralph Palmore. Palmore said plans are in the making for an expanded camp this year.

"This year's camp should prove better than previous camps, the experience we have gained over the past two years will provide the necessary ideas for improved operation."

"We'll need the support and efforts of every Guardsmen if we are to succeed in supporting the Youth of Kentucky," said Palmore.

Palmore urges every Kentucky Guardsmen to join the Kentucky National Guard Youth Council and actively support its operation.

between our two headquarters is long overdue and I congratulate you upon your initiative in bringing us together in such an enjoyable manner.

The Operation was outstanding in every respect. I would be remiss if I did not especially commend your Command Sergeant Major, CSM Quiggins, LTC Watson and the Officers and men of the 1-623rd Field Artillery, Mr. Taylor and his men at your Weekend Training Equipment Pool Number 1, your most competent "Air Force", and, of course, your very fine Active Army Advisor, Colonel Peterson.

Sincerely,

Air Guard Gives RF 101 flight to Mrs. Moseley

Major General Richard L. Frymire, The Adjutant General, presented Mrs. Betty H. Moseley, Lexington, Kentucky, with a Certificate of Achievement in recognition of her flight, 19 October 1972, in an Air National Guard RF101 Jet Aircraft.

The one-hour flight was made over Western Kentucky, and the aircraft pilot was Lt Col Carl D. Black, Deputy Commander for Operations, 123 Tactical Reconnaissance Group.

Col Charles Sellins, Director Air National Guard Division, said that permission to make the flight was granted to Mrs. Moseley because of her outstanding contribution to aviation. Mrs. Moseley recently returned from a conference with the Secretary of Transportation, Mr. Volpe. She was appointed by the President to serve as an Advisor on the Council for Women in Aviation.

Mrs. Moseley was thrilled with her ride in the RF101 "Voodoo". She was amazed at the ease with which the aircraft responded to the controls. She admitted that she was not fully aware of the large amount of activity taking place, daily, at Shewmaker Air National Guard Base, Louisville, home of the Kentucky Air National Guard.

She observed several missions taking off ahead of her flight. As part of their training the pilots fly missions taking aerial photographs of industrial sites, flood damage and control, hospital grounds, prison sites, tornado damage and Armed Services Training Areas. These missions not only provide extensive training for military missions, but furnish state and local officials with invaluable aids.

UP AND IN- The six Guard units in Louisville have formed the Louisville National Guard Basketball League. League play is held on Thursdays at 7:00 p.m. at the Fairgrounds Armory.

Louisville Basketball League standings

(as of January 11, 1973)

The league's leading scorer is still Charles Nalevanke with 133 total points. Danny Taylor is second with 120 points. League play is every Thursday evening at 7:00 P.M.

Pay hike for Guardsmen

A pay hike for Guardsmen became a reality 1 January 1973 as a result of two federal laws.

The increase is scheduled as a 6.7 percent boost to base pay. A law aimed at keeping civil service employees' salaries in line with private industry, and a law providing increases for military personnel whenever their civil service counterparts receive one, are the basis for this pay hike.

The law states that government officials will examine private industry scales each year and recommend action to keep federal salaries comparable. The process takes place each year, with appropriate action scheduled for 1 October - unless the President requests a delay. This year, President Nixon approved the hike, but requested a 1 January date.

Although the increase is signed, sealed and delivered, its enactment at 6.7 percent looks certain. It will not, however, be retroactive to 1 Oct.

2113th trains Texas Style

By
T. D. Riddell

The 2113th Aircraft Maintenance Company has been training under the 'Texas Plan' concept for the past year.

The program is designed to provide on-the-job training during the year for a part of the company. The men work directly with the technicians at the Aviation Support Facility in Frankfort for their two weeks Summer Camp.

"This training far exceeds the regular training of summer camp," said MAJ Wallace Walker, 2113th Commander, "it allows the men to perform maintenance on aircraft problems which are real and not simulated."

"The fifty-one (51) people who participated in the program will become much better qualified to perform their assigned duties in all routine or emergency situations," Walker commented.

SP4 Rick Graves and SP4 Harold Stockton performed their AT during October. Graves said he has learned more from the full time technicians in two weeks than in any other summer camp.

"It's a change of pace," Graves said, "training is real and therefore you feel your work is important."

"Summer Camp at New Cumberland Army Depot, I felt like a third thumb,"

Stockton commented, "We didn't get a chance to perform live work on flight line operation and the jobs we had were meaningless."

Both Graves and Stockton felt they also saved money. "I spent more money than I made at Summer Camp," Stockton stated, "I actually made money this summer camp."

Test flights are also on the training agenda for those who perform at the hangar. For Graves it was his first ride in a "Huey".

LOUISVILLE UNITS AID WALK-A-THON

Fifty men of Louisville's XXIII Corps Arty, Btry A (Slt), and 5-138th FA, joined over 7000 marchers in the recent March of Dimes WALK-A-THON, which netted over $83,000 for this worthy cause.

They assisted by furnishing trucks, tents, other equipment, and services to aid the marchers in their 25 mile route of march through Louisville.

Col. Thomas J. Nortof, Louisville, Project Officer, stated that the troops of 'Loisville Legion' performed their duties in and outstanding manner, again exemplifying that the Guard belongs to the people,

ONE OF THE YOUNGEST: Warrant Officer Harlan Pinkston III of Frankfort is one of the youngest men ever to receive his wings as an Army aviator. Pinkston graduated from Franklin County High School in 1971 and went on active duty 12 hours after receiving his diploma.

Secretary of Army Aid visits KyARNG

Kenneth Reutlinger said, "The State of Kentucky should be very proud of its National Guard operation," and that, "It's a shame all Kentuckians cannot have the privilege of a tour such as I had today...it would certainly improve support for the National Guard."

Reutlinger is Civilian Aide to the Secretary of the Army. His function, he says, is to act as a "liaison between the secretary of the Army and the civilian populace" in the state.

He recently toured facilities of the National Guard at Frankfort as a guest of State Adjutant General Richard L. Frymire.

"I work both ways," said Reutlinger, "a civilian aide does what he can for the military and at the same time reports back to it the feelings and problems of the civilian populace."

Points seen on the tour were the Army Aviation Support Facility at Capitol Airport, the Offices of Military Affairs and the Adjutant General, the National Guard Armory, and other Guard offices.
